2024 CBCA Book Week

This year the official week is from
17 August - Friday, 23 August.

The winners were announced on the 16th of August ...
And this year's Older Reader Winner is
Grace Notes.

Blurb

A debut YA verse novel about what happens when the paths of a young busking violinist and an aspiring street artist collide during a pandemic. Set in one of the most locked-down cities in the world – Melbourne 2020.

About the author

Karen Comer is a writer and a freelance editor. She wrote this book during the six lockdowns – “nowhere to go, time to write!” Her work as a freelance editor includes fiction for adults, as well as personal development, memoir, health and wellbeing and general business books.

The CBCA judges say...

Captures all the light and shade of the COVID-19 lockdowns, exploring the wider impact of the pandemic and how it affected different age groups. This book is a gorgeous exploration of art and creativity from the perspective of central characters, Grace & Crux who are searching to discover meaning and purpose in their lives.

International Science Fair – Week 7

Author Talk at ASMS Dr Jake Robinson.

Who is Dr Jake Robinson?

He is a microbial and restoration ecologist currently working at Flinders University, SA. His mission is to help protect, restore nature, promote personal and planetary health. He does this through collaborative science, communication, innovation and on-the-ground action.

Treewilding is his new book, a companion to first book Invisible Friends. Treewilding helps to reveal the complexities, controversies, challenges and solutions of forest restoration.

The book includes cutting-edge science and ancient wisdom to reveal how to restore forests.

Jake spoke to our students on the 22nd of August during Passion Project, a very insightful experience for all. Thank you, Jake 😊
