Quote of the Month

I HOPE YOU LISTEN DEEPLY AND LET THESE STORIES IN.
*these stories are for all time,
for the old days.*
TO HELP REMEMBER THE OLD PEOPLE,
but also for the future
AND FOR YOUNG PEOPLE NOW.
-KATHLEEN KEMARRE WALLACE

Who was Kathleen Kemarre Wallace?

She was a teacher, an artist and an author who served her community in Ltyentye Apurte, a remote area in Central Australia. She was a proud indigenous woman.

As a senior advisor on the Indigemoji app that was launched in 2019, Kathleen, won an award for Best Digital Product in 2020.

She won several awards, one being for a book she co-wrote with Judy Lovell, Listen Deeply: let these stories in. This book was a Shortlisted in the Territory Read Award in 2010.

NOW MORE THAN EVER

NATIONAL RECONCILIATION WEEK 2024
27 MAY - 2 JUNE #NOWMORETHANEVER RECONCILIATION.ORG.AU

Reconciliation involves building positive, respectful relationships between all Australian and Aboriginal & Torres Strait Islander people.

It helps to create a positive change and to help all Australians learn about their shared histories, cultures and achievements.

The theme is a reminder to us all that, no matter what the fight for justice and the rights of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people will – and must – continue.

NOW MORE THAN EVER,
we need to tackle the unfinished business of Reconciliation.

NEW Books in PSYCHOLOGY

Here are a couple of "Book bites" from the NEW books...

Experience Psychology helps students understand and appreciate psychology as an integrated whole. The personalized, adaptive learning program, thought-provoking examples, and interactive assessments help students see psychology in the world around them and experience it in everyday life.

This book has interesting topics in psychology. Additional local and global cases, it explores cross-cultural and Indigenous psychology, and asks probing questions to encourage students to think critically about cases and to examine the research methods used in real-life.
